A groundbreaking new study has revealed that healthy young adults suffer devastating and permanent damage to the non-renewable cells in their eyes after receiving Covid mRNA “vaccines.”

The scientists uncovered chilling evidence about the harmful effects of Pfizer’s Covid mRNA injection (BNT162b2) on the eyes.

The team of researchers, led by Dr. Fatma Sumer of the Department of Ophthalmology at Turkey’s Recep Tayyip Erdogan University Faculty of Medicine in Rize, found that the shots destroyed 8.4% of non-renewable eye cells in healthy young adults.

The alarming findings were published Wednesday in the medical journal Ophthalmic Epidemiology.

The peer-reviewed research reveals that the vaccine causes significant and potentially irreversible damage to the corneal endothelium.

The corneal endothelium is the crucial layer of cells responsible for maintaining the transparency and hydration of the eye.

Conducted by renowned researchers from two leading Turkish university hospitals, the study involved 64 healthy, Covid-naive volunteers.

Using advanced imaging technology, including Sirius corneal topography and Tomey EM-4000 specular microscopy, the team evaluated the eyes of participants before they received the “vaccine.”

They were then examined again approximately 75 days after their second dose of the Pfizer mRNA jab.

Key Findings of the Study:

- Endothelial Cell Density (ECD): The number of cells in the corneal endothelium decreased by 8.4%, from 2597 cells/mm² to 2378 cells/mm² ($p < 0.001$).
- Cell Variation (CV): The variation in cell shape and size increased from 39% to 42% ($p < 0.001$), indicating rising stress and loss of cell uniformity.
- Hexagonality (% of healthy cells): The percentage of cells retaining a normal hexagonal shape dropped from 50% to 48% ($p < 0.001$), a sign of dysfunction in the corneal structure.
- Central Corneal Thickness (CCT): The thickness of the cornea increased from 533 μm to 548 μm ($p < 0.001$), suggesting fluid imbalance and corneal edema.

Weighing in on the findings, renowned McCullough Foundation epidemiologist Nicolas Hulscher, MPH, explained the implications of these findings.

Perhaps the most disturbing part of this study is the fact that the corneal endothelium does not regenerate, Hulscher noted,

Once these cells are lost, they cannot be replaced, and the damage is considered irreversible.

Continued injury to this layer could lead to serious consequences, including blurred vision, chronic corneal swelling, or, in severe cases, blindness.

This study provides objective, measurable evidence of structural and functional eye damage occurring in young, healthy adults who have received Pfizer's Covid mRNA "vaccine."

The damage occurred even in participants with no prior history of eye issues.

This new data raises troubling questions about the long-term safety of the mRNA injections and the potential to cause damage to critical parts of the body, like the eyes, that many are unaware of.

However, this study is only the latest to add to the growing list of concerns about the safety and side effects of the mRNA "vaccines."

As Slay News previously reported, a world-renowned microbiologist has also issued a chilling warning over the unprecedented damage that Covid mRNA “vaccines” have caused to the brains of people who received the injections.

Dr. Sucharit Bhakdi is sounding the alarm over the long-term damage he’s uncovered in the mRNA-vaccinated.

Bhakdi warns that the problem is so severe that there are “billions of people” whose brains have been “destroyed” by the Covid shots.

The award-winning former professor of microbiology argues that people have been permanently “altered” by the experimental injections.

“The mRNA vaccines cause the destruction of brain cells,” Dr. Bhakdi warns.

“Obviously. And that is what we are now experiencing.

“We’re seeing – I’m afraid to say – billions of people whose brains are not working anymore.

“Not as they should be.

“They are altered,” he continues.

“And they don’t have the willpower anymore.

“They don’t have the intelligence anymore...”
